

AXA Rosenberg Level 47 (Penthouse) | Gateway Building | 1 Macquarie Place | Sydney

AXA Rosenberg commissioned idpm to undertake the full design and construction of their new office space at Circular Quay, Sydney. This was a competitive bid and awarded to idpm due to our unique & comprehensive design proposal.

Our brief called for a unique working environment to be created and our concept creation was based on Zen-inspired interiors, providing a peaceful and relaxing environment for staff and visitors. This interior was not to be just for typical corporate 9-5 activity, but to be a place enjoyed by staff and visitors, a "place to hang" and feel comfortable.

In line with our clients expectation we planned this project for completion prior to Christmas. Time proved to be one of the major challenges for this project but we overcame this with strong management skills and efficient project implementation.

"Stunningly brilliant...This is just amazing – loving it."
